

Invitation to Potential Authors

The International Journal on Governmental Financial Management (IJGFM) aims to provide a forum for practitioners, academics and the general public to discuss the many disciplines involved with governmental financial management. These include accounting, auditing, budgeting, debt management, information technology, tax management and treasury management.

We would like to be able to publish articles and comments that will:

- Encourage collaboration among professionals and others concerned about public financial management;
- Contribute to the advancement of government financial management principles and standards, especially through describing existing good practice;
- Identify problems or weaknesses through the critique of currently dominant views on public sector financial management reforms; and
- Assist public sector financial managers in identifying their own solutions to common challenges.

We particularly would welcome contributions from individuals or teams working in the developing countries. We invite potential authors to review past issues of the journal at: <http://www.icgfm.org/journal.htm>

The Journal currently does not provide double blind reviews (where both the author and the reviewer's identities are not disclosed) as the standard approach. The aim is to provide confidential comments on submitted contributions and to provide editorial suggestions (detailed as necessary) to help the author to produce a paper which is suitable for publication. A double blind review facility may be provided if requested by individual authors.

The Journal primarily publishes papers in English. However, for a trial period at least, we will now also accept articles for publication in French or Spanish. Such articles will not be translated, but will be published in their original language. We welcome comments on this initiative from our readers.

Submission of Manuscripts

We do not charge a fee for submission or publication of articles.

Manuscripts should be sent as email attachments to the editor at - icgfm.ijeditor@icgfm.org and be copied to icgfm@icgfm.org

Ideas for articles are welcome and may be discussed with the editor before submission of the full text. The editor is happy to respond to informal inquiries about the suitability of papers for possible publication.

Authors must warrant that the work does not infringe upon any existing copyright and does not contain material of a libellous or scandalous nature. By submission of a paper to the Journal, the author indemnifies the publisher and editors against any breach of such warranty or copyright restrictions.

Material published in the Journal may be reproduced without the consent of the editor or the Consortium and reproduction, translation and distribution is encouraged.

Format and Style

The manuscripts should include:

- no more than 20 single spaced pages (or 10,000 words);
- an abstract not exceeding 150 words - it should summarize the purpose, methodology, and major conclusions of the article;
- the title, the author(s) name(s), position/post and institutional affiliation (ministry, university, etc.), email address and any acknowledgements;
- authors should write in a non-sexist and non-discriminatory style, using, for example, "her/him"; or "s/he"
- limited use of abbreviations to improve ease of reading, appropriate references (see below) to the literature on the subject to support facts, assertions and opinions; all quotations should be fully referenced;
- footnotes, identified in the text by a numeral that is superscripted, should not include literature citations, and should be listed at the end of the paper, before the bibliography.

Referencing the text

References in the text to books, articles etc. should include the authors' names, the year of publication, and the specific page numbers if direct quotations are provided (e.g., Mickey & Donald, 1968, p.24). For more than two authors, the citation should be abbreviated as follows: (Kramdon and others, 1988, p.1). Multiple citations of the same author(s) in the same year should be distinguished in the text (and in the bibliography) by a, b, c, etc. following the year of publication. Latin terms, for example, et al, ibid or op cit should be avoided.

Bibliography

A bibliography should be included at the end of the text containing details of all books, articles papers, etc. which have been referenced in the text. The bibliography should only include references cited in the text. These should be arranged in alphabetical order according to the surname of the first author. The following details should be included: author and initials, full title and subtitle, place of publication, publisher, date, and page references (for direct quotations). References to journal articles must include the volume and number of the journal.

Where possible, details should be provided of the web address for material which is available on the Internet. In this case the date the material was read should be provided.

The layout should adhere to the following convention:

- articles:

We would also like to hear from other individuals who would be willing to assist with the editorial work of the Journal. The work would consist of reviewing potential contributions, suggesting whether they should be accepted for publication and making editorial recommendations to improve the quality of submissions.

Please contact the editor - icgfm.ijeditor@icgfm.org - if you would like to discuss the role of the editorial board and any input you could provide.
